WESTERLY WANTS CITY BEAUTIFUL

Desire to rurchase Welch Property for Something Eesides Stable Site-Aftermath of the Fire-One Horse Eurned was Formerly of Three-Horse Hitch Owned by Mrs. W. C. Lanman, of Norwich-Board of : rade Committees Named.

While the people of Westerly are in sympathy with James A. Welch over his loss by fire, and while there are none who desire to injure Mr. Welch's business prospects, he being considered a progressive and public spirited citizen, still there is a general desire that the property be utilized for other than stable purposes. The location, directly opposite the public library and memorial building, in Dixon square, is one of the most valuable and desire us in the town, and there are men of influence who believe the present an opportune time to bring about a change for the better, an opportunity to make more beautiful that beauty section of the town.

Mr. Welch has from small beginning, by persistent and honest industry, acquired extensive property, place by plece, and established a large business, and naturally he has no desire to part with the property and business location, as there are other considerations besides actual land values. Mr. Welch has not yet determined as to the plan of building, but contemplates continuing in business at the old stand; in fact is doing husiness there now, occupying his office, which escaped damage, his teams being stabled eisewhere.

Hardly had the firemen picked up the base Sunday meaning the teams being stabled eisewhere.

It was suggested to be an admirable location for a new town hail or Y. M. C. A. building, but no plan was suggested how a sum of money sufficient for the purchase of the land from Mr. Welch could be raised, or in the event of that purchase, the money to erect a building to compare with the nearby High schoolhouse, the Memorial building, the Dixon house and the proposed new postoffice building.

That a movement in the direction of improvement has taken shape is shown by the holding of a special session of the executive board of the Westerly board of trade Monday afternoon, for the consideration of the important matter. No definite action could be taken, merely a preliminary talk that may result in some definite proposition to Mr. Welch.

The First Baptist church services, by reason of the fire were held in the money to reach the follows:

The First Baptist church services, by reason of the fire were held in the money to reach the fire were label in the fire of water used in fighting the fire. In spite of this large volume of water were used in fighting the fire. In spite of this large volume of water used, there was a lessening of only ten pounds in the pressure. There were 2.600 feet of hose in use.

While William H. Greene, an assistant to Chief Cottrell, was severely injured by falling down the stone steps to the basement of the Dixon house, his condition is not as serious as was supposed. His head is cut, and his back is badly strained.

At a meeting of the officers and other members of the standing committees for the ensuing year were named as follows:
